JOHN BROADWOOD and SONS,
Class 780.5 Book C 457 no. 1

“A piano forte is to be exhibited at the Advertiser Castle
for the Knights of Labor. Extract from the ‘G’ Ledger, 22nd Aug. 1793.

Orpheus, with his lute, made trees
And the mountain tops that freeze
Bow themselves—so Shakespeare sings;
Broadwood taught the Lyre to please,
Enlarged its scale and added keys,
And some two hundred strings!

THE DOME.

An Illustrated Monthly Magazine and Review of Literature, Music, Architecture, and the Graphic Arts.

THE DOME is entirely unlike the typical Magazine of the moment. In form it is a Foolscape Quarto on antique laid paper, with most of the Plates (which include Colour-prints, Woodcuts, Lithographs, etc.) separately printed. In Contents it appeals only to men and women of taste, and has won for itself during the last two years a world-wide reputation as an organ of literary and artistic opinion.

THE DOME contains Poems, Fiction, and Literary Criticism by Laurence Binyon, W. B. Yeats, Stephen Phillips, Fiona Macleod, J. E. Woodmead, Arthur Symons, Laurence Housman, Francis Thompson, etc.

THE DOME contains Architectural Drawings and Papers by H. W. Brewer, F. L. Emmanuel, L. A. Corbeille, etc.; with Reproductions of such Masterpieces as those of Piranesi and Meryon.

THE DOME contains Plates after many dead masters, and Lithographs, Woodcuts, Drawings, etc., after Will Rothenstein, William Strang, Frank Mura, Gordon Craig, etc.; with Critical Articles by C. J. Holmes, Campbell Dodgson, etc.

THE DOME contains Musical Compositions and Musical Criticisms by Liza Lehmann, Edgardo Levi, Edward Elgar, Arnold Dolmetsch, Isidore de Lara, J. F. Runciman, Vernon Blackburn, and "Israfel."

THE PALL MALL GAZETTE says: "There is so much that is fresh, so much that is fine, in the work of the younger school of poets, painters, writers, and etchers, that no one of an artistic taste can afford to ignore this unique publication."
